

Pluperfect Subjunctive (-ra)

A crossword puzzle grid is shown on a light gray background. The grid consists of empty white squares. Three starting points are marked with numbers: '1' is in the top-left square of a horizontal row of 15 squares; '2' is in the second square of a vertical column of 15 squares; and '3' is in the first square of a horizontal row of 15 squares. The horizontal row starting at '1' and the horizontal row starting at '3' are the same row. The vertical column starting at '2' intersects the horizontal row starting at '3' at its second square. The vertical column starting at '2' continues down for 14 more squares, ending at the 15th square of the grid.
